

York Council Grants $180,000 To Hospitals Building In Toronto

Warden Fred A. Lundy was presented with a silver tea service at the annual warden's banquet in Toronto last night. Mrs. Lundy was unable to attend because of illness and Miss Audrey Lundy, her daughter, took her place. Members of the Newmarket council and their wives attended the banquet at which Leslie Blackwell, attorney general of Ontario, was guest speaker. Following the banquet the floor was cleared for dancing.

York county council is in its final day today. At yesterday's sessions, grants totalling $180,000 to public hospitals with building programs were approved.

Adopting recommendations of the special hospitalization committee's report, presented by Chairman Reeve F. J. MacEachern of York township, the council approved grants of $100,000 to Wellesley hospital, $50,000 to the Hospital for Sick Children, and $15,000 each to St. Joseph's and Toronto East General hospitals during 1946. The council also adopted a proposal to impose a one-mill levy in the next four years to provide grants of $150,000 annually to Greater Toronto hospitals.

"Up to 1944 we of the county council made only per diem grants covering indigent patients to public hospitals," Reeve F. J. MacEachern said.

N.H.S. Graduate Lectures In Army College In U.K.

L. H. Collingwood, son of Mrs. Chas. Collingwood and the late Mr. Collingwood, who formerly lived on Prospect Ave., is demonstrating in physics and lecturing on second year electricity and magnetism at the Khaki University in England where Canadian soldiers are receiving university education while awaiting return to Canada.

He graduated from Newmarket high school in 1920 with the Carter scholarship for the highest honor matriculation standing in York county, scholarships from McMaster University and University of Toronto, intermediate boys' sports championship, and second prize in the oratorical contest.

He entered the University of Toronto and graduated with his Masters degree in 1931. He then spent three years demonstrating in physics at the University of Toronto before going to the Ontario College of Education. On graduation from O.C.E., he accepted a position on the staff of Peterborough Collegiate and Vocational school from which he is at present on leave of absence to the army for his work at Khaki University.

HOG PROPOSAL VOTING SLOW, TIME UP DEC. 8

W. M. Cockburn, agricultural representative for York county, said early this week that ballots on the proposed hog marketing scheme are reaching his office in very small numbers.

cultural representative's office in Newmarket. In order to vote, a hog producer, defined for purposes of the proposed scheme as a man who produces one hog for market, must register with the agricultural representative either in writing or in person. Mr. Cockburn has emphasized that telephone calls are not acceptable nor can any producer register on behalf of his neighbor.

In order for the proposed hog marketing scheme to carry, there must be two-thirds vote in favor of it. While Kenneth M. Betzner, president of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, stated that the total number of those voting would have no effect on influencing the decision, it is reliably stated that if the number of hog producers who cast their ballots, either pro or con, is low in comparison to the number of producers in the district, the vote will not be considered sufficiently indicative of the hog producers' wishes.

The proposed marketing scheme is advanced under farm products control act and was urged by the Ontario Hog Producers' Association. In effect, the scheme provides for setting of prices by a committee composed of packers and producers.

CHOOSE CANDIDATES FOR OFFICES FRIDAY

Friday is nomination day in Newmarket, East and North Gwillimbury with election day, should there be need for one, coming on Monday, Dec. 3, in each of the three municipalities.

Newmarket nomination meeting will be held in the Newmarket town hall auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Besides the six municipal councillors, mayor, reeve and deputy-reeve, Newmarket voters must nominate two commissioners for the hydro commission and three public school trustees.

Rudy Renzius, Mrs. J. C. R. Edwards and C. Morden Carter have each finished their term on the public school board.

The two hydro commissioners, along with the mayor, will administer the provision of hydro power to the town. In previous years, the administration of electricity in Newmarket has been handled by committee of council but since Newmarket has become a hydro town, the law calls for a hydro electric commission.

Both elected commissioners are paid, the salary to be decided upon by the council. One of the two will remain two years while the other must step down at the end of the first year. The commissioners decide by drawing lots which one shall have the two-year term. The mayor is not paid for his duties on the commission.

North Gwillimbury will have its nominations between one and two p.m. at Belhaven community hall. Reeve, deputy-reeve and three councillors must be nominated. East Gwillimbury nominations will be held at Sharon between 1 and 2 p.m. Again, a reeve, deputy-reeve and three councillors must be nominated.

COMPLAINTS OF ROWDYISM BY PUPILS AIRED

The public school board at its meeting Tuesday night in the council chambers heard complaints of rowdyism of public school children in the form of the bullying of smaller children, fighting and wrestling on the streets, and the destruction of property.

L. H. Bovair told of being informed of an incident where two boys pushed a little girl about with sufficient violence to risk serious injury. Other complaints of this nature were repeated by board members. After some discussion, the following open letter to parents was authorized:

"Evidence of increasing rowdyism among public school children on their way home from school has been brought to the attention of the public school board.

"The board strongly urges the co-operation of all parents to help stamp out this condition. The teachers and principals can only do so much. It is equally the duty of parents to make certain that their children get in a responsible manner on their way to and from school.

"The aid of every parent is sought in reporting all evidence of bullying, destruction of property, and irresponsible activity on the part of school children, to the nearest principal, and to take steps to remedy such activity by their own children."

At the same time, the board instructed the secretary, R. L. Pritchard, to write the principals authorizing them to take any action they saw fit. Mr. Pritchard was also asked to write the Newmarket town council and the police advising them of the situation and requesting their support in remedying it.

Street Light Brackets Ordered For Main St.

Brackets for the street lights on Main St. when the poles are removed to permit the widening of the street are on order but it will be some weeks yet before they arrive. Deputy-Reeve A. D. Evans, chairman of the water and light committee of Newmarket town council, said

An appeal for aid in furnishing a clubroom for Newmarket veterans was made this week by the Newmarket Veterans' Association through Rev. Henry Cotton, padre of the association, and Bert Ward, president of the association, and both veterans of two wars.

In a joint statement, both men urged the support and co-operation of citizens of Newmarket in accomplishing this aim. Their statement reads: "The Newmarket Veterans' Association has been given permission to use the third floor of the municipal building for their clubrooms. The Newmarket Citizens' Band has co-operated with the association in making this possible.

"The association is appealing to citizens of Newmarket to help them furnish the rooms. Please send your donations to the president, Bert Ward, or the padre, Rev. Henry Cotton."

Queried about the appeal, Mr. Cotton said that it was hoped to install a table-tennis table, one or two card tables, a washroom, some comfortable chairs and chesterfields. There has never been a comfortable clubroom that the veterans could call their own in Newmarket," he said.

"The veterans of the last war and the men returning from this one deserve at least the consideration of a clubroom. We are asking the support of everyone in town to make this clubroom a comfortable one, one which the veterans can enjoy. It would be only a small return for their sacrifices."

Work of connecting electric outlets is proceeding as fast as possible, said Mr. Evans.

Cdn. Hoffman Co.

Buys Queen St. Site To Erect Factory

Canadian Hoffman Co. Ltd., manufacturers of dry cleaning equipment, filters, garment presses and other specialties for commercial use, have purchased the industrial site on Queen and Charles Sts. and will build a $150,000 plant there as soon as possible.

A special meeting of Newmarket town council was called Saturday night to pass the necessary by-law to enable the sale of the land for $200. The deed was taken to Toronto Monday morning by Clerk Wesley Brooks where J. P. McGuire, president of the firm, signed it.

The Canadian Hoffman Co. has also purchased George Stark's foundry and work of renovation and repair was begun there Monday. The firm has a heavy back log of casting to pick up and it is planned to use the foundry until the firm can build one of its own.

The Canadian Hoffman Co. is a subsidiary of the U.S. Hoffman Machine Corporation with a head office in New York.

It is expected that the plant will have a floor space of 50,000 square feet and will employ between 50 and 100 men. Men with experience in shop work and metal work will be required. It is planned to use local labor with the exception of key personnel and any present employees who wish to follow the plant to Newmarket.

The Canadian Hoffman Co. has been situated in Toronto for close to 40 years. A sales and parts office will be maintained in Toronto with a factory office in Newmarket.

Large Industrial Boom Is Expected Here For '46

In a statement early this week on the locating here of the Canadian Hoffman Co. Ltd., Joseph Vale, chairman of the industrial committee of the Newmarket town council, declared that Newmarket was facing an industrial boom this coming year such as it had never had before. "The locating of the Canadian Hoffman Co. here is a milestone in Newmarket history," he said.

Negotiations to bring the new industry had been going on for several weeks before the deed to the land on Queen and Charles Sts. was signed by J. P. McGuire, president of the firm, Monday. The site was sold for $200.

In his statement, Mr. Vale told how Dr. J. C. R. Edwards had arranged an appointment between the heads of the firm and the industrial committee of Frank Bowser, J. L. Spillette and Mr. Vale. The firm's lease is up at its present location in Toronto and it was planned to relocate out of town. The firm was seeking a seven-acre site with rail facilities.

Officers of the firm were shown the site on Queen St. which at that time still had the raised right of way of the old Metropolitan trolley line. There was sufficient expression of approval of the site to make it seem worthwhile for the site to be levelled. A special council meeting was called and Mr. Bowser was given permission to have the right of way levelled. By using bulldozers, Mr. Bowser was able to have the site levelled in a few days.

Following inspection of the levelled site, officers of the firm said it would be suitable if other factors such as freight rates could be arranged. Following a series of conferences in which virtually the whole council took part at various times, officers of the plant indicated their approval and on Monday, the deed was signed.

INDUSTRY MEANS NEW RESPONSIBILITIES

Of all the considerations evoked by the announcement that the Canadian Hoffman Co. was locating in Newmarket, one that stands out is that the town must prepare to accept heavier responsibilities. It is not so much the fact that a new industry is coming to town as the very real possibility of more new industries locating here.

By their energy and aggressiveness, members of the Newmarket council and more specially, members of the industrial committee, have shown what can be accomplished to sell the town as an industrial location. A site had to be levelled. It was, in a matter of days. Power lines had to be rerouted. They were. Plans and surveys had to be prepared. They were. No effort was spared and the result is a new industry, one which the citizens of Newmarket can be proud to have located here.

There is every reason to believe that other industries will locate here in the near future. Joseph Vale, chairman of the industrial committee, has stated that Newmarket can look forward to an industrial boom in the coming year. It will mean the building of new services, repairing of roads and bridges. It will mean heavy initial outlays in the preparation of suitable sites. In return, there is the larger range of employment, increased business on Main St., and a steady approach towards the realization of community needs like larger and better appointed schools, playgrounds and community centres, as land which yielded no tax return is made profitable.

As important is the fact that an abundance of industry is Newmarket's best insurance against the return of the dark days of the 30s. Industry does not necessarily mean large factories. Two men operating a wood working shop are operating an industry. The small industries are just as important as the larger ones. The point to be emphasized is that where there are numerous industries, large and small, the effects of a slack business period are better distributed.

The location of Canadian Hoffman Co. in Newmarket is indicative of a new page in Newmarket's long history. It demonstrates what can be accomplished by united and energetic effort. It demonstrates further that Newmarket need never fear competition with other municipalities in local advantages. The same spirit that brought arrangements with the Canadian Hoffman Co. to a successful conclusion can make Newmarket a model community if applied with equal vigor by all the citizens to present problems.

HOG SCHEME AID FOR EXPORTS

The hog producers who attended the meeting in Newmarket town hall Nov. 14 to discuss the proposed hog marketing scheme offered for their approval by the provincial government, heard from Kenneth M. Betzner, president of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, an argument so much in favor of the scheme that it overshadows all other considerations. Mr. Betzner said that under present conditions Canada would be lucky if able to fulfil even 65 percent of its present hog contract with Great Britain. He favored the scheme as a means towards meeting the contract provisions.

"Irregularity of supply cost Canada its hog market in Great Britain after the last war and if hog production continues to fall, is likely to cost Canada its present market," he said. Hog production has virtually ceased in the western provinces and Ontario, with a 350 million pound yield, can do little more than meet domestic demands, he continued. This means that on Quebec and the Maritimes falls the burden of meeting the current contract with Great Britain.

It has been stressed time and time again that Canada is an exporting nation. Nor can that fact be repeated often enough. Canada is more than able to supply her own domestic needs. Her prosperity comes from what she earns through exports. The export of hog products is important in maintaining the necessary high level of outgoing products. It would be a sad blow to Canadian hopes of prosperity if the United Kingdom market were lost through inability to fulfil contracts.

The hog marketing scheme would help maintain this market in the following ways. 1. Under the conditions of the scheme, the hog producer would be able to set a floor price in advance. The risk that the producer must now face would be removed. He would be able to calculate his potential return before starting his production. 2. Through control of production, a steadier flow of hogs would reach the market. Though not mentioned in the rough draft of the scheme, Mr. Betzner pointed out that by means of better prices to offset the higher costs of winter production, the producer would be encouraged to continue at a full production at a time when he usually slackens.

3. Since the scheme would be province-wide if accepted, the hog producers would be in a strong position to protest the rising cost of grain for example which has affected the production of hogs. 4. In event the dominion contract was lost, the Ontario hog producers would be in a position to market through their own agencies. The hog producer would be protected against complete loss of market. 5. As a bulwark against that eventuality, the hog producers, under the scheme, would be in a position to encourage the production of better grade hogs. To quote Mr. Betzner, "there is always a market for high grade products, including hogs."

Registered hog producers have until Dec. 8 to mark their ballots whether or not they are in favor of the proposed hog marketing scheme. The proposal of such a scheme is in itself a high point in agricultural progress; the acceptance of the scheme would mean a large advance towards guaranteeing the farmer a stable income.

RECREATION OR ROWDYISM

The complaints of rowdyism among public school pupils on their way to and from school which were heard at the public school board meeting Tuesday night suggest that it is a problem that is growing out of hand, that it is something more than the manifestation of the animal spirits of growing children.

One cause of the condition is the war. Children whose fathers are in the services or whose mothers have been working in war plants have been deprived of the benefit of parental training at a time when they need it most. The war is over but the results of the lack of proper home training continue to be seen.

Another cause is the growing belief among some parents that the school teacher has assumed all the obligations that formerly were the parents'. It is the extreme of the recognition that a school teacher is more than an instructor in the three R's. The teacher does have a growing influence on children and teachers have come to recognize they are responsible in part for the formation of good character and personality in their students. However, the parent is still the first half of the partnership and unless the parent is able to instil the qualities of responsibility and discipline in his children, the teacher has little to work on.

Whatever the causes, the cure is suggested in the report of what the provincial government is ready to do to encourage full time recreation programs among municipalities which was given by Mrs. J. C. R. Edwards at the same school board meeting. Mrs. Edwards pointed out that the government was ready to assume one-third the salary of year-round recreation director and up to 20 percent of the cost of equipment.

Newmarket has had one experience with a recreation program for children and there is no doubt of the excellence of the results. Unfortunately, the program was limited to six weeks during the summer. The reports of rowdyism among public school pupils suggest that such a program is needed the year around. Supporting this is the endorsement of the public school board of such a program and the offer of school facilities to help carry it out.

This is a period of considerable unrest.

Changes in employment, the return of servicemen, labor troubles and the world conditions generally have created considerable uncertainty among adults. The feeling is communicated to children. At the same time, municipalities are being offered greater aid to combat the results of this unrest than was ever offered them before. It would be wise for Newmarket to avail itself of this aid. Otherwise, the reports of rowdyism among public school pupils will become evidence of an increasing dangerous situation about which nothing was done.

GIVE WAR SURPLUSES TO SCHOOLS

The War Assets Corporation is charged with the disposal of war surpluses, reconditioned material which has peacetime use, and the thousand and one odds and ends which a country needs for its services in the time of war. The object of the corporation is to avoid the wholesale junking that followed the last war by selling what is useable and crediting the return against the costs of war.

Towards the end, the corporation has utilized existing retail outlets and has been careful to dispose of its goods in such a way as to not affect manufacturers and marketing agencies dealing in the same sort of goods. New uses have been discovered for the tools of war. For example, a large surplus of steel helmets was sold to children who wanted to play at being commandoes. With one exception, the activities of War Assets Corporation have met with general public approval. The exception is the lack of consideration given by the corporation to the needs of schools. According to the Canada and Newfoundland Education Association, only those goods which are non-salable or scrap are loaned to the schools. Otherwise, the schools must buy what they can use.

The brief from the C.N.E.A. points out that the schools are in need "for instructional purposes, machine tools, motion picture projectors, radio receivers and typewriters and other articles the War Assets Corporation will soon have for its disposal. The schools turned over their resources to the dominion government during the war to train workers for industry and armed service with the understanding explicit or implied that the dominion government would replace equipment so used or worn out after the war." Now, continues the brief, the government and War Assets Corporation says that the schools must pay for such equipment.

More to the point, however, is that the schools when purchasing such equipment from the War Assets Corporation must use taxpayers' money. In effect, the saving made by the corporation to the federal taxpayer when it sells equipment to the schools is charged against the municipal and provincial taxpayer. It is a case of robbing Peter to pay Paul. It would be much more simple to give the schools the equipment they need.

RED SHIELD CANVASS

The sum of $1,532.32 was raised in the Salvation Army Home Front appeal of a few months ago in Newmarket and district. Included in the report from Salvation Army headquarters here was a break down of how the money was being spent. The figures tell of the variety of the Army's interests. The money is spent as follows:

For social readjustment of veterans and care of veterans' families, 18.73 percent;

On the maintenance of homes for unfortunate girls, homeless children, aged women, and visiting sick and infirm, 24.73 percent;

On the relief and rehabilitation of destitute men, first offenders, prisoners and their dependents, 10.87 percent;

On preventative efforts, character building, youth activities and spiritual and personal service; 29.43 percent;

On the training for life and service of youth groups, young men and women for leadership in social service and other activities throughout the dominion, 16.84 percent.

THE COMMON ROUND BY ISABEL INGLIS COVILLE

ENVIRONMENT

A noted Jesuit, I think it was Loyola, once said "give me a child for the first seven years of his life and I can mould him to my desire," or words to that effect. I cannot remember the exact quotation, but it certainly stresses the fact that the things with which we surround ourselves, or by which we are surrounded, exert an enormous influence on us, mentally, physically and spiritually.

Those who ought to know, educators and clergy, seem to feel that it is almost beyond hope that Nazi youth, trained from childhood in the sordid and brutal Nazi philosophy, will ever become normal. The only hope for a re-born Germany is in the babies of today and the reversion of the older folk to a way of life foreign to Germany since the advent of Hitler.

Once German youth were steeped in the glorious heritage of music that was theirs, the children delighted in the fairy tales and folk lore which seemed to fit in with their cosy homes and great forests. But Hitler took the children and made of them brutal little automatons. The result was the Germany of today.

I suppose that each home is a testing ground for those who believed in the sanctity of the individual, the right of children to have a happy, normal and unregimented childhood. The children of Germany were completely surrounded by Nazi influences. They thought, studied, worked, played and ate by rule—Nazi rule. There was no religion unless the adoration of Hitler could be called such. Home influence was nil, because the children were even taught to spy on their parents. They never knew what it was to be a child. The result of this training is all evidence of the effect of such an environment. None can ignore it.

Environment brings us back to the core of all things. It is the hub from which stem the spokes of education, secular and sacred, the happiness and well being of the individual, the success or failure in the business of life. There is the physical well being of the family. Sitting down to a daintily served, well cooked meal tends to relax nerves strained by the worries and fears of the day, and makes a fitting background for talk which can range from the earth to the moon, or from the difficulty of making things without shortening to the behaviour of the cats. There is the pleasure of reading or being read to, reading that varies from the Bible with its wealth of stories and poetry and heart warming help in time of need, to articles on every phase of life under the sun and some good humorous tales thrown in by way of relief. Then there's music—home-made and radio—and who can resist its beauty. A child who goes out from a home where these things are the order of the day is ready for day school and Sunday school, he can build on a foundation already laid. His environment has given him the equipment with which to mould his future.

I heard my mother and Mrs. Elmer Starr the other evening discussing how they had learned their alphabet. Mother said "We never learned it in rotation, we learned from the capital letters in the big family Bible, just as they came." Mrs. Elmer said "So did I." Here were two women, widely separated by age, country and faith, but both brought up in God-fearing homes where the Bible was THE book. I learned my alphabet that way too and I can remember every picture in that big Bible as clearly as if I saw each one yesterday, for every Sunday I sat on the floor and studied them and practised my new-found art of reading. Mrs. Elmer said their Bible contained no pictures as her parents felt they were not real presentations of the subject, which is true, but I loved those pictures anyway.

To a great extent, from environment comes character, and I read once that character is three-fourths of life. So it's up to us to keep environment free from "malice, hate and all uncharitableness," and to have it warm with love, with home comfort and the fear of God. In that way we can keep the foundation of our lives secure and strong.

By REV. HENRY COTTON,
TRINITY UNITED CHURCH

Religion, the Christian religion, is like a diamond. It has many facets. In fact it is more precious than diamonds. Religion challenges us and comforts us. It is not an opiate as some would have us believe. It has infinitely more to offer us than pie in the sky. It does a number of things for us and to us. The more important of these is that it gives us a Saviour. It relates us through that Saviour to our God and Father and to Eternity. God made us restless. This may account in some measure for the unrest so prevalent in the world today. He filled us with discontent, Divine discontent. Our souls are restless until they find their rest in Him.

Every man, and woman for that matter, is fighting a hard battle with the world, the flesh and the devil. Yes, I am old fashioned enough to believe there is a devil. In our fight with Satan we need strength and comfort. There is One who can make us more than conquerors and there is a source of all comfort. Long before Christ these words were written: "Comfort ye, comfort ye, my people saith your God."

Then when the Promised One came he said, "I will not leave you comfortless, I will come to you." The Comforter has come! The Light is come! The great tragedy is that men love darkness rather than light because their deeds are evil. Return unto the Lord and He will have mercy and abundantly pardon.

The Editor, The Newmarket Era and Express: I would like to express my opinion on a matter which I consider of utmost importance to us all. On Halloween night there was a splendid program in the arena. The arena was filled with young and old, and the program will be, I hope, an annual event from now on.

What would have happened, however, if at the height of festivities there had been a puff of smoke at the east end of the arena and someone had shouted "fire!" There was only one door open at the northwest corner of the arena, and the passageway to the main entrance is too narrow. If there had been a panic in the arena while it was full, many would have died in that passageway.

Surely, it would not cost much to improve the side exits, add a new one, and have a man in uniform stationed near the doors to throw them open in case of emergency.

ORGANIZING SPORTS

By ORVILLE GANTON

The popular 'Down the Centre' columnist believes the war is the cause of the present sports depression. Could be. But as far as hockey is concerned, the military camp was all that saved Newmarket from a complete blackout in the hockey picture. Newmarket's hockey reputation was established mainly through winning the Canadian junior championship and by the number of professional players developed.

Winning the junior championship was a bloodless victory because the entire team was imported. Importing players besides being unsportsmanlike is poor business as it upsets the balance of the group or league and thus kills off competition.

It always reacts unfavorably on the instigators. Moreover, the smartest players that ever represented this town were home-grown, developed on our own rink in town leagues and district groups. This should prove conclusively that with proper organization we can promote class 'A' hockey.

Facilities for playing hockey are much more expensive than for other sports. However, to offset that, it is a tremendous drawing card and pays big dividends. Newmarket has the main essential which is a good rink. If we are satisfied to foster hockey on a purely amateur basis solely for the benefit of the youth in this community, the rink will pay. But on the other hand, if we allow it to become a medium through which professional sport promoters and racketeers might exploit our youth and taxpayers then it will be no dice.

The success of the community project carnival last winter and the recent Hallowe'en party should convince all pessimists just what can be accomplished when public spirit is properly harnessed.

Good amateur hockey does not need to be subsidized; it will pay its own way. Before the O.H.A. became a chattel of professional promoters, hockey thrived in every Ontario community. Switching the final games to the city rinks, too many series with round robin play-offs, and other highly commercialized ideas have almost killed small town hockey. The gullibility of the sporting public is amazing but even it has limits.

Avoid Financial Suicide

The average MORTALITY of Canadian hogs, between birth and market, is about 40% !!

This is a costly loss to hog producers. But consider that, to average 40%, many farmers must suffer losses of 60% and more. Losses higher than 40% constitute FINANCIAL SUICIDE in the hog business !!

WHEN DO THESE PIGS DIE?

The great majority of deaths occur between birth and ten weeks of age. Up to four weeks of age much of the mortality is due to ANEMIA - feeding REDUCED IRON or IRON SULPHATE will prevent this. Get your supplies from us !!

Between four weeks of age and ten weeks of age much of the loss is due to LOW FEED CONSUMPTION and POOR NUTRITION. Correct this situation - feed palatable, completely fortified SHUR-GAIN 18% Pig Starter. Start at 2-3 weeks of age. Feed the Starter in a hopper, in a creep - DRY - and feed nothing else, except fresh green feed, if you have it. Put no more Starter in the hopper each day than the pigs will completely clean up that day. Continue in this way to ten weeks of age, weaning the pigs at eight weeks of age.

AVOID FINANCIAL SUICIDE - FEED THE SHUR-GAIN WAY!!

Five Enter Jr. Farmers Public Speaking Contest

The York County Junior Farmers' Association held its public speaking contest in the Aurora high school auditorium Friday evening before an enthusiastic crowd representing all parts of York county.

Five contestants took part, Miss Orphie Orr, Maple, winning high honors in the girls' section and Mrs. Betty MacLean, Markham, placing second. Jessie Bryson, Woodstock, was high boy and Douglas Miles, Milliken, and Everett Giles, Pefferlaw, placed second and third in the boys' section.

All contestants were invited to the Downtown Kiwanis Club luncheon on Wednesday where they were presented with five dollars worth of books. The winners of the contest, the high boy and the high girl, are now to meet the winners from Simcoe county to pick representatives to compete in the town competition.

The judges for the competition at Aurora were Mrs. Elton Armstrong, Armitage, J. B. Basford, Newmarket, and Bruce Beer, agricultural representative, Brampton. During the program Misses Leila and Verna Butcher of the Vellore club sang two duets and Sam Gough, Milliken, sang several solos.

A number of presentations were made during the evening. Mary Lavoie, Pefferlaw, and Gordon Orr, Maple, the York county winners to the Chicago International Livestock Exposition, were presented with $45 cheques. Walter Reesor, secretary-treasurer of the York county junior farmers, presented a cheque for $208 to A. H. Martin, assistant director, agricultural representatives' branch, Toronto, on behalf of the Ontario Junior Farmers' War Services Fund. This cheque brings to $4,000 the amount of money raised in York county by the junior farmers for this fund since the beginning of the war.

J. D. Moore, formerly assistant agricultural representative in York and now agricultural representative in Brant county, was presented with a suitable gift in recognition of his services with the junior farmers in York. The presentation was made by Gordon Orr.

BELHAVEN TO BUY NEW STOVE FOR COMMUNITY HALL

On Monday, Nov. 5, the council met in the hall. There was also a meeting of the board of management for the Community hall. Members present were Reeve Ross McMullen, Deputy Reeve Harold Glover, Geo. Langridge, Mrs. Chesley Cryderman, Mrs. Noble Munroe, Miss Mary Young and Mrs. Wm. Winch. Plans were made to have the furnace repaired and a new stove put in the basement.

Mr. and Mrs. Elja Willoughby were re-appointed caretakers for the coming year, and Mrs. Wm. L. Winch re-appointed secretary-treasurer and manager for the coming year.

Mrs. Elja Willoughby is slowly improving in health since her operation.

Mrs. Joseph Ryan Buried In Brock Township

Mrs. Jos. Ryan, Georgina township, died at the home of Mrs. Will Umphrey, Udoa, on Friday, Nov. 2. Mrs. Ryan had been in ill-health for about three years, but was only in bed three weeks before her death.

Born and brought up in the Holt section of East Gwillimbury, she was, before her marriage, Minerva Stuffles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Stuffles, Holt. She came to Georgina as a bride with her husband, John Joseph Ryan, and spent all her married life in Georgina township. The late Mrs. Ryan was a keen worker in the Udoa W.A. and other activities of Udoa United church.

Surviving are her husband, three sons, Wesley, Sutton, David and Jim at home; and three daughters, Mrs. Ivan Bailey (Cora), Elm Grove, twin daughters, Mrs. Wm. McLean (Viola), Little Britain, Mrs. Dave Galloway (Iola), Jackson's Point; one sister, Mrs. Alonso Wesley, Newmarket; and 13 grandchildren.

The funeral service was held on Monday, Nov. 5, at Udoa United church. Rev. Mr. Brunt, Valentine, officiated. Pallbearers were Stuart Taylor, J. C. Taylor, Ed. Taylor, Allan Snodden, Isaac Sherwood and G. N. Graham. The flowers were carried by Mrs. Artie Barker, president of the Udoa W.A., two nieces, Mrs. Cameron Lane and Miss Luella Waines, and six grandchildren, Eleanor, Reta and Freddie Bailey, David Galloway, Shirley and Jim McLean. Interment was in St. John's cemetery, Brock township.

LONG-TERM PASTURES DISCUSSED ON TOUR

Farmers from York and Peel counties, seedsmen from Toronto, feed and fertilizer men from various sections and editors of the farm press visited seven farms in York county Nov. 2 to see and discuss long-term pastures. The tour was sponsored by the York county council and York County Crop Improvement Association. There were 60 present.

The farms visited were W. B. Davidson, Agincourt; Russell Little, Agincourt; Dalton Rumney, Victoria Square; Leitchcroft Farms, Dollar; Jack Fraser, Concord; Alfred Bagg, Edgeley and Don Head Farms, Richmond Hill. On some farms demonstration plots laid down in 1944 and 1945 by the York County Crop Improvement Association were viewed; on other farms long-term pasture mixtures and pasture improvement and management as carried on were outlined on the field by the respective farmers.

All the farmers stressed the importance of heavy seeding of pasture mixtures, pasture clipping of weeds and coarse grass periodically, of extra fertility prior to seeding and of sustained fertility each year. Chain harrowing has become a practice on most of these farms. Much interest was shown in Ladino clover which is becoming popular as a straight pasture crop and in mixtures.

A two-pound prize of Ladino clover seed donated by A. E. McKenzie Seed Co., Toronto, to be won by a farmer present at the start of the tour was won by R. P. Armstrong, Locust Hill. Noon lunch was served at Leitchcroft Farms.

Many expressed the wish that a one-day "school" might be held in the near future where pasture management discussions could be tied in with observations of the tour.

MARRIED RECENTLY

FORMER MT. ALBERT GIRL IS MARRIED

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents in Toronto on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 22, when Janet Allan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Allan, formerly of Mount Albert, was united in marriage to Sherwood Smiley, Toronto, son of Mr. and Mrs. Acton Smiley, Campbell's Bay, Que. Rev. J. S. Ferguson performed the ceremony. The house was decorated with pink and white gladioli.

The bride wore a floor-length white chiffon gown with a gathered skirt and fitted bodice trimmed with pearls, and a finger-tip net veil held by a coronet of pearls and orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of red roses and white gladioli. Mrs. Jean Taylor, Oshawa, was bridesmaid and wore a shell pink gown of chiffon and lace and carried a bouquet similar to that of the bride. Mr. Frank Taylor, Oshawa, was best man.

A reception was held after the ceremony. For their honeymoon through northern Ontario the bride wore a dark brown suit, beige top coat, and matching accessories. The couple are now residing in Toronto. Several guests were present from Zephyr and also relatives of the groom from Quebec.

Ottawa News-Letter

By J. E. SMITH M.P.,
NORTH YORK

The following resolution dealing with the adoption of a national flag is now before the house: That in the opinion of this house, it is expedient that Canada possesses a distinctive national flag and that a joint committee of the Senate and the House of Commons be appointed to consider and report upon a suitable design for such a flag.

In a speech supporting the resolution Hon. Ian Mackenzie spoke for the government. I quote extracts from the veterans' affairs minister's speech presenting the issue.

"In the life of every nation symbols are important, and perhaps the most important of these is a national flag. We have shared the union jack, and we shall always honor it as the symbol of much that is best and most precious in our heritage; but we have had nothing that has been peculiarly and indisputably our own, that would symbolize Canada—all of Canada and everyone in Canada. There should be something that all can see and look to with pride, as the symbol of this great nation of ours, to which affection and loyalty can attach, and which can become the sign of unity and purpose that will make Canada great."

I agree that Canada should have a national flag, that the union jack should form a part of it as a symbol of our association with the British Commonwealth of Nations. I hope the house will not make a political football of the issue, and that it may be decided upon quickly and without any needless waste of time through endless discussion.

A new war has been declared in Canada in the interest of peace: the Department of Justice is going to clean up on gun-tot-

KETTLEBY CHURCH WELCOMES 40 NEW MEMBERS

Kettleby, Nov. 15 — A large congregation was present in the United church on Sunday evening to witness one of the most impressive services in years. After several weeks of preparation the pastor, Rev. C. E. Cragg, received 40 new members, 19 adults and the rest in the teenage group.

After answering the regular questions, the new members formed a circle down the side aisles and across the front and back of the church and with hands joined sang Blest Be The Tie That Binds. After the singing, the minister, assisted by Raymond Marshall, Roy Geer and S. J. Heacock, welcomed the new members. Following the reception, the sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered to the largest number in the memory of the oldest members.

During the service, George Edward Heacock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Heacock, and Susan Elizabeth and Donald George, daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Puklinghorn, received the rite of baptism.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Raymond Marshall, the choir, nine of whom joined the church, sang special music. Miss Margaret McClure, a former teacher in this community, sang a solo bringing to a conclusion a service long to be remembered.

The second meeting of the newly formed Christian Endeavor was held in the United church hall Monday night with a good attendance. The new member, Harry Burns, took charge of the first part of the meeting. Ray Marshall, as missionary convenor, then took charge and gave an inspiring talk on the Road to Missions. A solo was sung by Laura Black. The meeting closed with prayer by Rev. Abbot and everybody then joined in an hour of games and table tennis.

The Women's Guild of Christ church is holding a bazaar and eucche in the parish hall, Friday, Nov. 23. The bazaar will start at 7 p.m. and the eucche, with prizes and lunch, will start at 8:30 p.m.

MAGISTRATE'S COURT PRICES BOARD CHARGE BRINGS $200 PENALTY

B. W. Sedore, charged with selling a car above ceiling price, was found guilty and fined $200 in magistrate's court here Friday.

Magistrate W. E. McIlveen presided. Accused was charged with selling a car with a ceiling price of $602 for the sum of $800, including repairs, to G. A. James.

In his statement of sale, accused had said he sold the car for $650.

A. E. Manser, W.P.T.B. investigator, said that he had interviewed the accused in August and accused had made a statement in which he said he had sold the car for $800, the price to include a new heater and repairs.

In a second statement, accused said that he had torn up a statement of sale on which the price was $800 and had asked the purchaser to mark the statement of sale $650, so that $150 could be allowed for repairs, Mr. Manser said.

"I examined the car and found evidence of the fenders being painted but there were three cracked windows," said witness.

"The car was not in as good shape as a dealer would have put it."

N. L. Mathews, K.C., special prosecutor for W.P.T.B., read from orders in council setting forth how the price on the particular model of car would be set.

The car was a 1940 deluxe model sedan with a sales price of $1,230 to which could be added $50 for transportation and handling, the price of spare tire and tube, and $35 for a heater for a total of $1,338, he said.

"According to the W.P.T.B. scale, the ceiling on a car of that age is 50 percent of the sales price, $669," said Mr. Mathews.

"Since it was not reconditioned before selling and since it was not sold by a dealer, the maximum price at which it could be sold is 90 percent of the $669 ceiling, $602."

Accused said that he had inquired the ceiling price of the car and had been told it was $650 and that he thought the additional $150 price was fair to include repairs and the heater.

HAROLD RUTLEDGE
WEDS BETTY FAIRLES

With Rev. Douglas Davis officiating, Stouffville United church was the setting for the marriage of Lydia Betty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Floyd Fairles, to Pte-Lieut. Harold B. Rutledge, son of Mr. W. E. Rutledge, Newmarket, and the late Mrs. Rutledge, on October 27.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a princess gown of white triple sheer with yoke of rose point lace. A halo cap edged with pearls held her finger-tip veil and she carried a white prayer book with streamers of white orchids. Miss Norma Jean Fairles was bridesmaid for her sister and chose a dusky rose taffeta gown with nosegay of sweethearts roses and blue baby chrysanthemums. The flower girl, little Margaret Mills, niece of the groom, was in baby blue carrying a nosegay of sweethearts roses.

Mr. Alexander Rutledge was groomsman for his brother and the ushers were Mr. Harold Cunningham and Mr. Gordon Baker.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Rutledge, cousins of the groom, were organist and soloist.

At the reception at the bride's home following the ceremony, Mrs. Fairles received the guests assisted by Mrs. Allan Mills, sister of the groom.

conveniences were being extended to the farm, and the future of the country depended upon more people staying on the farm, he concluded.

Orpie Orr, who had chosen the same subject as Miss McLean, told of the influence of home-makers clubs on high school girls, young married women, and girls "who stayed at home." Dress-making, nutrition, cooking, gardening and music were all advantageous, but most of all was the fostering of a "community spirit" and the exchange of new ideas and different experiences, she declared.

J. B. Bastedo gave the judge's report and each speaker received $5 in books from the Toronto Downtown Kiwanis club Wednesday as well as being guests of that organization at luncheon at the Royal York hotel.

Betty McLean of Unionville was the first speaker. Her subject was "The value of home-making club work." She outlined the various projects being conducted by such clubs among the farm girls and said that as a result, the girls learned independence, self-reliance, poise, and many hidden talents were discovered. She told of the work being carried on by the Unionville club.

Douglas Myles of Unionville spoke on "Supplementary education for farm youth." Mr. Myles pointed out only 50 percent of farm children started to high school, and only ten percent achieved senior matriculation standing. "The three R's are not sufficient to run a farm today. The farmer if he is going to do a good job must have more education," he said. Calf, swine, grain, and heavy seas cracked a seam up forward. Planks on the flight deck were sprung. Tpr. Billing enlisted in 1943 and trained at Newmarket and Camp Borden before going overseas in 1944 where he saw considerable action on the Continent.

Tpr. Ernie Rank returned abroad the Queen Mary after an absence of four years from home. He enlisted in 1941 with the First Hussars and went overseas that year. He accompanied the unit into action on D-Day and was in action with them through Belgium and Holland. A brother, Tom Rank, who served overseas with the Auxiliary Fire Fighters, returned home earlier this year.

Pte. Leslie Williams, Larmonth St., returned home with the Royal Regiment. An employee of the Sisman Shoe Co., he enlisted in 1943 and went overseas the next year after completing his training at Camp Borden. He saw action on the Continent. Two brothers-in-law, Sgt. David Judd and Paratrooper Don Judd, returned home a few months ago.

Home from Ceylon for further medical treatment is WO1 Clarence Fisher, R.C.A.F., son of Councillor A. N. Fisher. WO1 Fisher enlisted in April, 1942, and graduated as a wireless air gunner at Mossbank, Sask. After instructional duty at Edmonton, he was stationed in the Bahamas. He married Miss Effie Sheridan of Whitchurch township before being posted to India and Ceylon. In April of this year, he was one of the five survivors of a crew of eight which crashed into the Indian Ocean following mine laying operations. He pays great tribute to penicillin, receiving 56 injections during the worst period of his illness. WO Fisher is seeing for the first time his daughter, Marlene, born a few months after her daddy left for India.

Pte. Bert Long, Centre St., arrived home on the Queen Mary. Bert enlisted in 1943, with the infantry and went overseas in 1944 from Camp Borden. He saw action on the western front. He was formerly employed with Collis Leather Ltd.

ANTICIPATE CONTEST FOR KING OFFICERS

Nominations for King township council will be held on Friday, Nov. 23, at King Masonic hall at 1 p.m. If an election is held it will be on Dec. 3.

All the present councillors will stand for re-election if nominated, while rumor persists that Deputy-Reeve Lorne Goodfellow will contest the reeveship. Reeve Thomas MacMurphy has already stated that he will be a candidate for office.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH HAS 75TH ANNIVERSARY

St. Andrew's Presbyterian church will celebrate its 75th anniversary next Sunday with special services. In the morning the pastor, Rev. S. W. Hirtle, Richmond Hill, the tenth minister to occupy the pulpit, will be the preacher, and the anthem will be King All Glorious. In the evening Rev. Dr. Stanley Glen of Knox College, who was the eighth minister of the church, will be the guest preacher and Miss Helen Pruner will be soloist, the anthem will be Bless This House. Rev. Walter Amos, who was the second minister to occupy the pulpit, was minister of the church for 36 years.

Douglas Egan, who has received his discharge from the R.C.A.F., has accepted a position at Georgetown and will shortly take up residence there.

R.S.M. Jack Deigan, Aurora R.C.O.C. depot, has received his discharge and returned to his civilian post. Mrs. Deigan and family are continuing to reside in town.

Pte. Gordon Fairey, Camp Ipperwash, is on furlough with his wife and her parents, Chief Constable and Mrs. Fisher Dunham.

Pte. Bruce Heise spent the weekend at Buffalo, N.Y.

LAC Nels Anderson has been transferred from Calgary, Alta., to Toronto and expects to receive his discharge shortly.

LAC David Snell, R.C.A.F., who recently returned from Labrador, is on leave at his home.

Sgt. Alfred Botsley, R.C.A.F., is now stationed in Ottawa.

With nomination day in King township tomorrow, and the possibility that there may be some changes in council, Aurora council feels the request and the clause to be reasonable and while the likelihood of Aurora or the firemen ever being called upon for liability is very remote, there is no reason King township should not agree to the request for indemnity.

"We are under no obligation to answer calls other than under the agreement, but we have always been glad to do so and are continuing to do so even though there is no agreement at present," said Mayor Ross Linton.

"The matter will have to be dealt with by the new King council for our brigade and the council are agreed to take our solicitor's advice. I am hopeful that the agreement will be signed soon."

King township council object to a new clause in the agreement which provided for indemnification to Aurora, the Aurora fire brigade and Aurora firemen in case of any accidents or mishaps while the brigade is fighting a fire in the township. A similar clause was included in the agreement with Whitchurch township and was signed by that municipality.

Mayor Ross Linton has been empowered by the Aurora council to deal with the matter but as far has not been able to get a satisfactory reply from King.

Mayor Ross Linton has been empowered by the Aurora council to deal with the matter but as far has not been able to get a satisfactory reply from King.

Aurora council feels the request and the clause to be reasonable and while the likelihood of Aurora or the firemen ever being called upon for liability is very remote, there is no reason King township should not agree to the request for indemnity.

"We are under no obligation to answer calls other than under the agreement, but we have always been glad to do so and are continuing to do so even though there is no agreement at present," said Mayor Ross Linton.

"The matter will have to be dealt with by the new King council for our brigade and the council are agreed to take our solicitor's advice. I am hopeful that the agreement will be signed soon."

King township council object to a new clause in the agreement which provided for indemnification to Aurora, the Aurora fire brigade and Aurora firemen in case of any accidents or mishaps while the brigade is fighting a fire in the township. A similar clause was included in the agreement with Whitchurch township and was signed by that municipality.

KEEP PRICE LEVELS FARM FORUM URGES

By MRS. W. H. WILMOT
Press Secretary

Newmarket East Radio Forum met at S. S. No. 7 school on November 19 and listened with interest to the national review of the last month's findings. The questions discussed were: could controls be lifted or eased on sugar, butter, meat or farm produce? The answers were all in the negative. If there is no waste, we are quite satisfied to do with the nutritional units as set by experts in regard to sugar, butter and meat as long as Europe is hungry.

We would like to see better material put into manufactured goods and not see shoddy woolen goods marked "all wool", crooked and knotted axe halves, cracked steam fittings, chipped enamel ware, ineffective D.D.T. placed on the market at full ceiling prices.

We have to live up to standardization of farm products and do our utmost to produce a product worthy of the ceiling price. In order to avoid inflation we think it wise to continue price control.

Which type of agreement is most satisfactory between a young chap staying on a farm and his father, a verbal agreement, to get all the money that can be spared, a definite wage each month, half of everything, or a written agreement that son gets the farm when the father retires, provoked discussion. Circumstances alter cases but a definite business arrangement should be made either by way of wages or a share of livestock so as to keep up the interest. Girls who stay at home should also receive equal consideration.

Mr. and Mrs. George Luesby, Newmarket, entertained the meeting of scholars and adults with many reels of silent motion pictures of Mr. Luesby's own production in technicolor.

The local army camp parade for the first Victory Loan, V-E Day celebration, Sir William Minto's funeral procession, flower gardens here and there were among the interesting pictures.

The subject for next forum discussion is "What steps can you take to improve the nutritional value of the food you produce?" The meeting will be at Mr. Ivan Eves' home.

OFFICE OPEN

The Newmarket Era and Express office is open Saturday afternoons from 2 to 4 o'clock for the benefit of out of town patrons.

THINGS WE REMEMBER

BY GOLDEN GLOW

Isn't it queer what things we recall after long years of seemingly forgetfulness? Things that are so unimportant while things you would like to recall evade you. For instance, the other day I heard one small boy say to another "Aw, give a dog a bone!" And at once I caught myself saying "Nick nack, Paddy whack, give a dog a bone." It is years since I heard anyone say that.

Then I began to recall other old things we used to say, all standing in a circle, when we wanted to see who would be "it" for tag or hide-and-go-seek or kick-the-stick or some other young folks' game. It really makes you wonder who on earth invented the foolish nonsense.

"Eenie, meenie, hippy Dickey, deli, dolia, dominie, tee, taw, tie, tush, one, two, three, out goes she." The heavy finger of the one doing the incantation unceremoniously pushed you backward out of the charmed circle. And, there is the old one "Eenie, meenie, minie moe, catch a nigger by the toe—if he hollers, let him go, eenie, meenie, minie moe." They all end in "one, two, three—out goes she," or he, of course.

Then when you all stand in a circle and put one finger in a cap and one stirs her hand around in the cap with her eyes supposed to be tight shut and it's "Onesall, twosal, tisal, tickle tam, Bob-tailed vine gar, sickle tam, Sam, ham, scram, the silly man, tee, taw, tie, tush, one, two, three, out goes she." She is supposed to keep her eyes closed tightly and touch each one in turn till it comes to "out goes she" and she opens her eyes to see who has to take the rap this time. Then she starts all over again until only one is left and that one is "it." Oh to be young again, eh?

AURORA 85 Couples Present At Lions Ladies' Night

Eighty-five couples enjoyed the Aurora Lions club's annual ladies' night in Mechanics' hall last Thursday. A chicken dinner was provided by the ladies of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. Joe Simms of Toronto was master of ceremonies of the music for dancing.

floor show which featured Mary and Audrey, accordions, Ruby Spratt, banjoist, and others. Miss Kathleen Rose, niece of Dr. Crawford Rose, was guest soloist. Several skits were put on by the Aurora Leos which drew gales of laughter. Alex Eves of Newmarket was guest tail twister and was ably assisted by Lyall Sparks and Gordon Stoult. Art West's orchestra provided the music for dancing.

AURORA ASSESSMENT APPEALS

Four appeals from the 1946 assessment were heard by the Court of Revision last week, with the following results:

Appeal of Abe Hartsman on Wellington St. property for lower assessment was refused; rebate was granted to the estate of J. M. Walton on business tax from the end of August; assessment of Alfred Wilingham on land on Kennedy St. was reduced by $400 and on

AURORA DEFEAT U.T.S.

St. Andrew's prep school champions finished their season last week by edging University of Toronto Schools 15-11 at Varsity stadium. The Saints scored a touch in the first 15 seconds as they recovered a fumble and Blake Taylor hit for 20 yards. U.T.S. scored two unconverted touches to make it 10-6 at the half. The Toronto team added another but a field goal and a touch by Flemming gave the Aurora students a last quarter win.

AURORA TELLS EXPERIENCES

Flt.-Lieut. B. T. O'Brien of the staff of Aurora high school, who returned from overseas a few weeks ago, told of his experiences overseas to the students recently. Nominations were also held for the officers of the Literary Society.

Horace Kendall, fresh from winning a rugby championship and generally seeing his St. Andrew's charges have their best gridiron season in years, has his thoughts now turned on basketball and hockey. St. Andrew's College will again be entered in the prep school basketball league and also in the North York interscholastic circuit. There will be senior and junior teams in both.

The Saints will not be entered in junior O.H.A. this season, nor will they enter the juvenile, midget or bantam series of the Ontario Minor Hockey Association, according to Mr. Kendall. All the St. Andrew's teams will see plenty of action but the powers that be are not in favor of entering leagues. Games will be played with Ridley, Upper Canada U.T.S., Lakesfield, Pickering, Trinity and Cantab. It is likely, too, an entry in the North York secondary school hockey league will also be forthcoming. The decision not to enter the O.H.A. is probably a wise one and in any case, the team will have as many games as ever. The news that the colorful Saints will not be in the O.M.H.A. series is a blow to some of the district minor teams who had counted on the Andreans to supply both stern and convenient opposition. There will doubtless be opportunities, however, to play exhibition matches.

Jack Sibbald, who generally has a finger in the hockey pie up Sutton way, says that the Lake Simcoe metropolis will not be entered in intermediate O.H.A. as expected since a good many of the players counted upon are still in the services and Sutton is not anxious to import heavily again. There will be an entry, however, in the Ontario Rural Hockey intermediate section, which would appear to admirably answer the present Sutton requirements for hockey until new talent is developed. Beaverton, Cannington, possibly Zephyr, and smaller centres near by will provide the opposition. Sutton is likely to enter the minor series, however, although this will not likely be definitely decided for some weeks.

Sutton leaving O.H.A. hockey would give the proposed Newmarket intermediate club a clear field northward and there are several boys up north who would fit in nicely with any team Newmarket might form.

Major Gerry Goodman has turned out a mighty sweet program for the Barrie Flyers, who are trying their hand in junior A with varied success. We suppose we are a bit prejudiced in regard to the program for we were honored by being asked to do a sports writing job and batted out three articles.

Charlie Ryan of Richmond Hill is casting an eye on the Aurora town league this winter and it may just be that there will be one or two entries from the south in the Aurora loop this winter. There is, apparently, some difficulty in regards to ice hours and arrangements with the rink. The Hill bush league carried on with considerable success the past three years but the Lions club which sponsors junior and minor hockey have the inside track it seems and the time or dates offered may or may not be satisfactory to Ryan and the teams from the countryside. The bush league rented the rink, as in Aurora, and cleared over $1,200 in the three years, as compared to the attempt to balance the budget by the minor and junior teams.

If satisfactory arrangements can not be made at the Hill, there is little doubt but that the Aurora mercantilists would welcome southern entries and from the point of view of good competition, gate attractions and general interest, the Aurora league would benefit nicely from the deal. The Hill teams, except for added travel, would be as well off. With Bob Thomson, the proxy of the Aurora league, now resident in Clarkson, a re-organization of the league as well as a new president will be needed. Stewart and Bill Patrick, along with Herb Holman, will doubtless be getting things lined up soon.

Birthday greetings are in order this week for our old pal, Herb Holman, who as soccer player and hockey referee, needs no introduction. We guess we'll have to admit to being a year older this week too.

J. C. Burns of Markham, who is well and favorably known for his affability and bowling ability throughout North York and most of Ontario, will head the Ontario Lawn Bowling Association for 1946 as president. It is the first time this office has been filled by a North Yorker. Mr. Burns is the Ontario Hydro manager for the Markham district.

Markham Juniors suffered the temporary loss of one of their better players in practice recently as Hal Chadwick broke his arm in a collision with the boards. The Markies have had a practice game already this year and are further advanced than any junior B club in the district. The entire district junior B hockey group will probably be rated as B this year despite the fact Stouffville is entered as C and the club probably figured most would be given C rating eventually. We understand that Secretary Billy Hewitt intends to crack down on clubs who enter as C and then import a bunch of players who are resident elsewhere as used to be the case. Playing junior C hockey is to mean using your own boys exclusively. That of course was originally the way the pre-war C series was started but wasn't adhered to very long. The interpretation of the territory from which players could be drawn was so widely expanded that it killed the original intention.

Stouffville like Markham and Richmond Hill, doesn't intend to depend entirely upon home talent, although they will get the first chance.

Wally Samanski, who played centre for Whitby juniors two years ago and last winter made the Oshawa Generals, has transferred to Barrie this year and has won himself a place with the newly-formed Rangers. Samanski's departure from Oshawa came as a surprise and was smart work on the part of the Barrie management. Bruce Philby, grandson of the veteran, Fred Waghorne, who played in goal for Galt Red Wings and won himself a suspension for bopping a referee, is in goal for Barrie and the youngster will give them plenty of good goal coverage.

There are four Barrie boys on the team, a little better than most Ontario centres can boast about. It took us back to the days of Newmarket Redmen and Aurora Millionaires when we were in Barrie last week and saw the number of imports, the scurrying to find them jobs and keep them happy. Homebrew hockey may not draw as well but it has a lot fewer headaches.

Stan Evans, former Newmarket junior who has been on service with the R.C.A.F. since 1940, is back in Cannington again and should be a real asset to the contemplated Newmarket intermediate club. Stan played highly effective hockey for Camp Borden Orphans, 13X Bombers and Borden R.C.A.F. in addition to playing smart softball and starring at swimming. A new series has been announced by the Ontario Minor Hockey Association and it should do much to aid the association. There will be juvenile C this winter to accommodate towns like Aurora and Newmarket and also bantam B which again helps the smaller towns. There should be a record entry. So far as we can learn, with the exception of Mr. Hardwick of Bolton, the district was not represented at the meeting. Harold Luke of Oshawa was elected president. He has evidently had a change of heart for we recall back in 1939 at the O.H.A. meeting he criticized Aurora for having a junior C entry, saying "it's better to play junior B or juvenile than junior C."

Herb Mitchell, who back before the Great War resided on Yonge St. north in Aurora and played hockey for the high school, has come out of retirement to coach the Baltimore team in the U.S.A.H.A. series. Herb played senior hockey with Hamilton Tigers, Boston Bruins and then coached with considerable success, ending up with Hershey Bars. He then decided to resume his pharmacy business in Toronto but like an old fire horse, he has answered the call again, at a good price of course. Herb is one of Aurora's most distinguished hockey alumnus and one of the least known.

Gordy Brennan, former Aurora junior defenceman who played some first rate football in senior O.R.F.U. this year with Ottawa Trojans, had his nose broken in the final game of the season against Hamilton Wildcats in a game with nothing at stake. Ottawa finished in third place and next Saturday will meet the Big Four Roughriders for the Ottawa city title. Both Brennan and Jimmy Cumming, another ex-Aurora puckchaser, will play hockey in Ottawa this winter. Cumming also turned in a better than average game of football for the Ottawa club. Pepper Martin did not secure his discharge from the navy as expected and so did not play football for Queen's University. Pepper played on the half-line for H.M.C.S. Peregrine in their series with H.M.C.S. St. Lawrence for the Maritimes service rugby championship and the ex-St. Andrew's captain and Aurora junior defenceman turned in a sterling game. Another former St. Andrew's athlete of pre-war days is one of the outstanding linemen in the intercollegiate series. He is Bullifit Grass who performs as middle wing for Toronto Varsity.

Pickering College hockey teams are the first of the district teams to make use of the close-at-hand facilities of artificial ice offered by Barrie arena. Tommy Myers' Pickering boys have booked an hour each week until the end of December. A few weeks ago Tommy told yours truly that Pickering would concentrate on exhibition hockey games with an entry in the North York inter-school league and perhaps an entry in a dis-tri juvenile league. "We have no outstanding prospects at the school and are not anxious to enter into a group or a series that would call for much travelling. Our idea is to give as many boys as possible a chance to play hockey, something you can't do if you shoot for championships. We would likely enter minor competition against district teams if a group is organized."

Tommy is receiving considerable praise for his efficient refereeing in rugby. In the opinion of many he is as good as those presently officiating in the bigger leagues and is better at this sport than whistle-tooting in hockey. Along with Blondie Jackson and Reg Blackstock, Pickering provided a fine trio of officials for the prep school series. Red Mitchell, who resides at Richmond Hill and one season played mercantile and town league hockey at the Hill, was sold by the Chicago club to Kansas City of the United States league when he couldn't get a passport visa to report to the Chicago Black Hawks. Like so many more who hung on when the war was in progress, once the boys started returning from the services, it was the minors for Red.

Jeff Desilets, one of the top scorers for the Toronto army team last winter and one of the leading scorers in the group, has secured his discharge and is now performing with New Haven Eagles. Desilets, nicknamed "Dizzy", played particularly well against the boys from No. 23 B.T.C. but going all out against Newmarket is a habit with him. In 1933, Jeff was centre for Stratford Midgets in their historic series against the Newmarket Redmen. Afterwards he played with Canadiens and in the minors.

Maurice Gerth, who was in goal for Stratford in that series and last year was with Sudbury Open Pit, has forsaken the cold belt for sunny climes, and is with Hollywood Wolves in the Pacific coast league. "Wolves" seems a good name for any team of hemmen in the movie centre with beauty at every corner.

Jack Wheeler has turned down an offer to play with Owen Sound in senior, and Collingwood will be represented by a strong intermediate team this winter. Among those counted upon the Shipbuilders are Reg Wesbrooke, of Armored (Continued On Page 11).

PLEASANTVILLE

Corps and Army Daggers, "Nip" Spooner of the Aurora R.C.O.C. Depot, Bus. Portland, Bobby Sandell, who was at Newmarket camp briefly, as well as many other veterans. Lou Brunelle and several of the lads from Camp Borden are counted upon too, but the last report we had from Borden indicated that there would be at least two soldier teams who would be ready to play intermediate hockey this winter, making Barrie their home ice.

Earl McCready, one of wrestling's outstanding performers and a resident of Aurora, dubbed the "Aurora farmer", is touring the mid-west States with great success in the ring and at the box office. Earl is very popular around St. Louis were the profession is even more popular than in Toronto. He will be home for Christmas and then expects to leave for New Zealand where he will display his ring talents. McCready will not make a trip that is strange to him for he was in N.Z. previous to the war, in fact, he introduced the North American style of wrestling to the Anzacs. His popularity is as great there as here and Earl looks forward to renewing many old acquaintances. During war years, he met many lads from Down Under who had cheered his efforts and were in Canada for training.

Markham Juniors who are practising faithfully for the coming hockey season announced the policy of having as many local boys as possible on the junior team. The first practice was nearly all district boys. Now Coach Doug James and business manager H. Bell, expect to have some of their former players from Toronto back in action. Boris Tipoff, who was the outstanding junior defenceman of the local junior group two years ago, is said to be of junior age and ready to play hockey for Markham once he has concluded his football season with Toronto Balmy Beach. Tipoff, it will be recalled, received his army call and played last winter against Newmarket camp for No. 20 B.T.C. Brantford. He may still be of junior age, however.

Wally Coker who played junior A for Young Rangers and last year participated with Markham until the non-services ruling of the O.H.A. was applied, is out of the navy now and is counted upon as Bill Whittle, who played really good hockey for last year's edition of the Markham club, both on defence and up front. We suspect when the season gets underway, Carl Sclars, and the Forgie brothers are apt to be about the only home-brews in Markham sweaters.

Richmond Hill will again have plenty of opposition in their quest for a title. Norm Bourne, who has been handling an entry in Richmond Hill town league, is toying with the idea of an intermediate team for the Hill this winter. He feels there are quite a few boys back from the services like Norm Mabley, Willie Beresford, Pat Patten, Bruce Stephens and others who would like to play organized hockey. There was plenty of high class Toronto and district talent playing in the Hill league last winter to make the team really formidable. More news about this later. There is a rumor that some of the older fellows around Markham feel the same way and think an intermediate team can be easily organized there. We are investigating this report.

Forest Hill, which has been playing consistently in the T.H.L. and winning its share of honors, is ready to enter the intermediate class if good grouping can be secured according to W. A. Hewitt of the O.H.A. It is just possible we shall see a nice compact O.H.A. intermediate group composed of Sutton, Newmarket, Richmond Hill, Markham and Forest Hill, which would give good competition, good gate possibilities and easy travelling. Are you listening Brother Beazier? A little investigation right now might pay off. Don't forget the O.H.A. convention at the Royal York Dec. 1 is just two weeks away. The groups will be drawn up shortly after. So we will soon have a picture of the hockey situation.

Barrie is having a junior B team as well as junior A and they intend to make strong representation for grouping with teams down this way, otherwise they will be left high and dry with no immediate opposition, a situation Barrie has had to contend with for more than one year.

Lieut. Bert. Life, track coach and soccer star at Newmarket camp is now enrolled on a physical education course at the University of Toronto, and will go on to his work with the Y.M.C.A. afterwards. Lieut. Life is admirably suited for such work.

Fred. Gibson, brother of Jack "Bushy" Gibson, who joined his brother for the 1940 S.P.A. series in which the Redmen did surprisingly well, is now with Omaha, a Detroit farm team, and cutting quite a caper. Fred didn't stay with Newmarket although overtures were made, but he went with Native Sons, later Montreal Royals, and the Army. Now he is getting his chance and making good.

Miss Beryl Davis and her girl friends, Misses Jean and Lois Lundy of Toronto, spent Sunday with Beryl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Davis.

The Christian Endeavour Society held its meeting in the United church hall Monday night with a good attendance. The Christian culture convenor, Norman Greensides, took over the second part of the meeting after the president opened the meeting and business was discussed. Calvin Doan read the scripture lesson. Norman then gave an interesting talk on the early days of Kettleby and the founding of the three churches. The Christian culture convenor, with the help of the members, has decided to edit a paper each month.

Next week it is hoped to have a group of leaders of the Christian Endeavour Society of Toronto to take over the meeting and help with future ones. There will be a social hour after the meeting which will be held in the United church hall and all young people are asked to attend. Snowball Young People will be guests.

BUYS BUSINESS

ARENA NEWS

By LES BEAZER

Well here we are, going into another winter season and I guess you are all wondering what is cooking down at the Memorial Arena. We've a lot of things planned, and a lot of help is going to be needed to put them over.

We are going to have a senior team of the same calibre as last year's. We will have the final details settled by next week. A senior team will be a surprise to most hockey fans but it is a fact. We can't give you the details until we are sure of the green light on who is going to sponsor the team.

We want to see a good midget group of four teams in action this winter. There is a lot of work being done on this but so far, nothing definite.

The figure skaters are slow in organizing and something will have to be done about it, but fast. There is good chance of getting a professional up here this year. But right now, let's get going on it.

There are enough juvenile C players around for an entry in the O.M.H.A. but the big hold-up is lack of an executive.

The ice show will be sponsored again this year by the Newmarket branch of the Women's Institute. The theme is St. Valentine's Day and cut-outs for the sides around the rink are already made. The design for the ice is being sketched and one number is on paper.

Improvements have been made on the rink itself. The surface has been graded and packed. The cushion is being painted and prospects for ice are good, very good indeed.

HEALTH NOTES

COMMUNICABLE DISEASES

Preventative measures are vaccines and toxoids.

1. Diphtheria toxoid, initial dose at six months to one year. Should be reinforced on entering primary school, and every two or three years after to maintain immunity.

2. Combination diphtheria toxoid and whooping cough vaccine.

3. Whooping cough vaccine, given at six months. Reinforcing dose in one year and again in two or three years. Child is not immune until two months after inoculating.

4. Typhoid vaccine. Because of improved sanitation, it is not generally used but is recommended for carriers and contacts.

5. Smallpox vaccine, given at six months.

Parents are advised to take their baby to the family physician for these vaccines. Advantage may be taken of the school clinic where vaccines are being given. As these clinics are at long intervals, however, parents are advised not to wait for them. Jessie Smith, P.H.N.

The official board of Mount Albert and Hartman United churches have formed a Crusade committee and this has divided into four sub-committees on education, evangelism, rehabilitation, and Christian stewardship. Each committee will carry on its part in the local Crusade for Christ. The rehabilitation committee will hold a social evening in the church on Monday, Dec. 3. This will be especially for the congregation to get together and make welcome to our church all men who have returned from the service and all in our community.

Ken Ross has purchased the vacant lot on the corner of Centre and Mill Sts. and will build on it in the spring. At present it has been cleaned up and trees cut down, a decided improvement.

Mrs. Wm. Broad had a successful sale of household goods on Saturday. She has sold her house to Mr. Geo. Peagam.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. H. Pearson and Mr. and Mrs. Reg. Willbee who over the weekend celebrated their 25th wedding anniversaries.

Misses Margaret and Betty Ross of Toronto spent the weekend at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Ross.
